TRABAJO PRACTICO DE LA UNIDAD Nº 9

Traducir:

1. After last night meeting, we'll have to reconsider the whole project.
2. I have got to operate today because the operator fell ill.
3. Your system is growing to be more and more like mine.
4. His security measures went to pieces in the first running of the process.
5. This program corrects the miscalculated amounts and posts it to all users.
6. How can I get to arrange it?
7. It was apparent her disbelief when she arrived unexpectedly and found nobody at work.
8. The chemistry system can be set up to single user mode or multi-user mode.
9. He followed the instructions but he couldn't put the computer together properly.
10. He overacted his annoyance when the process results weren't what he wanted
11. He may be super subtle sometimes, but try not to annoy him.
12. The hinge has come loose.
13. The project analyst gave me so many instructions that I misunderstood half of them.
14. He turned system programmer at the age of thirty.
15. We'll have to put the backup process off. We'll have to put it off.
16. They got to be good operators.
17. Let´s not argue with him about PCs; you know he's always been pro-Mac.
18. Please, don't congratulate me on this achievement. Mine was an unimportant task.
19. That copy machine is so good that I can't tell the original and the photocopy apart.
20. In the last years, these systems have survived numberless changes.
21. Our plans came to pieces.
22. Result turns to zero when you load a negative value.
23. The output file is to be self-sufficient and auto-executable, without needing assistance from any other software.
24. Why don't you throw these useless mouses away.
25. This process is less expensive, because we do not need to produce preprinted paper.
26. The scanner had a serious problem, so the mechanic has got to take it apart completely in order to fix it.
27. Even when there's a shortage of printers, the arrangement was that they must have their own ones.
28. The Developer Manager mentioned negligence or careless mistakes made by the staff.